Journal: Mindanao Journal of Science and Technology

Volume: 23

Issue: 1

Pages: 54-79

Date of Retraction: May 22, 2025

This article has been retracted by the Mindanao Journal of Science and Technology due to ethical concerns.

After publication, it was brought to our attention that the paper used data, figures, and content from an undergraduate thesis without proper acknowledgment or permission. The students who originally conducted the work were not listed as authors and did not agree to be included. Some images were also edited to remove the students' involvement.

This violates the journal's ethical standards and the guidelines of the Committee on Publication Ethics (COPE), including issues related to authorship, plagiarism, and image manipulation.

To maintain the integrity of the journal, this article has been officially retracted. A retraction watermark will be placed on the article PDF, and this notice will remain linked to the article.
